*Adult ESL courses are offered from levels A1 to B2.

*IELTS courses are offered up to level 6.5.

*Our programs do not currently offer preparation for the TOEFL exam or specific courses for CEFR levels C1 and C2.

What is CEFR?

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) is an internationally recognized standard for describing language ability. Divided into 6 levels from A1 (Beginner) to C2 (Proficient), it maps directly to official test scores like IELTS and TOEFL, providing a clear benchmark for customized learning.

BASIC USER

A1 (Beginner): Understands basic everyday phrases and simple interactions.

A2 (Elementary): Communicates routine tasks on familiar topics.

INDEPENDENT USER

B1 (Pre-Intermediate): Expresses opinions clearly on travel, work, and personal interests.

B2 (Intermediate): Interacts fluently with native speakers on complex topics.

PROFICIENT USER

C1 (Advanced): Uses language flexibly and effectively for academic/professional purposes.

C2 (Proficient): Expresses thoughts with complete ease, precision, and native-level fluency.
